FYI – I am forwarding a link that was sent to me when I did a records request at the City last week if you want to read some more background regarding the Seaman complaint regarding Bainter and Radke activities. Several years ago and this year making a delineation check, I dug several holes on the Bainter property. I don't know why the wetland delineation report was not included in the links at the City. Perhaps because it is a more recent application? IN the City documents provided via the link I am sending to you, the applicant states that wetlands are present in one of his application forms, and he states that some ponding and flooding happens during winter and spring. When I was out there several years ago, I dug several observation holes at lower portions of the area adjacent to the old northern location of the Creek (no soil indicators), some holes close to the creek at the east end of the property (wetland conditions that were noted and surveyed in the wetland delineation I was checking). The soil on the Bainter parcel has been altered, probably plowed at some point and planted to alfalfa in the past, so most of the site is disturbed.

I went to the City last week and looked at some aerals which showed small patches of soil that was disturbed (possible fill areas?) in the vicinity of the former location of Shaw Creek and in the area that was slated for restoration plantings. The size of the disturbance areas correlates to a written narrative in the restoration plan about the intent to remove two patches of reed canary grass prior to planting. I am in currently in the process of trying to get permission to get onto the properties.
